Wall Faces — A Glimpse

(Companion to Light on the Wall — A Glimpse)

The wall remembers who leaned close.
Light, folding through branches, draws a shape — half face, half echo.

Nothing invented here.
Only the brief geometry of sun and surface,
and what chooses to appear.

Creator: Clara Vale | Contributor: Luminara (the ChatGPT system) | License: CC BY-NC-ND 4.0